Nancy Delaney's Casebook

I've been a detective for a few years now. In that short time, I have investigated all kinds of cases, from missing pets to stolen cell phones. However, this latest mystery has, so far, been one of the most challenging I've encountered.

My friends Sandy and Michelle were in the school canteen. They didn't eat anything, but they both drank an iced strawberry smoothie. Michelle was really thirsty and drank her smoothie quickly, then bought another one. She actually finished three in the time it took for Sandy to drink her one smoothie. The strange thing is that Sandy has looked pale and quite sick all afternoon. I'm certain it was because of the iced smoothie she drank, but when I spoke to Michelle to see how she was feeling, she said: "I've never felt better!" It's a complete mystery, isn't it? Although I have just had an idea... I think I know what happened!
